2. OBZ intelligence officers are instructed to submit information in two categories: routine reports, and "M" reports. Routine reports are to cover military defensive intelligence and are to be transmitted to the next higher headquarters where they will be evaluated and directives for further action will be issued. Those of importance will be forwarded from V Section (OBZ) Divisional Headquarters to V Section VO-1 (OBZ--1st Military District Headquarters).

3. Reports which are not of defensive military intelligence interest are to be forwarded to headquarters where they will be prepared for dissemination to interested Government agencies. Intelligence officers are instructed not to make special efforts to obtain this type of information, however.

4. "M" Reports are to be prepared for submission to the Minister of National Defense and are to cover the following topics:

- (1) Attitudes of various political and public officials of the Army.
- (2) "Extraordinary developments" threatening the security of the Army or of the State, including reports on border traffic, and on the activities of German and Hungarian minorities.
- (3) Conditions in military schools, work brigades, etc.
